No Meeting This Friday or Next Friday

Ways to Keep Busy Until We Meet Again Friday, December 4

There's no meeting this Friday and next week we're off for the Thanksgiving holiday. That doesn't mean there's nothing you can do for Rotary now.

- Buy a ticket and attend tomorrow night's Whiskey Tasting (Nov. 19) ... there are still some spots available for purchase at http://www.spiriteddunwoody.com - you can also get tickets there for the raffle of a very special whiskey
- Help with Harvest Baskets tomorrow at Kingsley Elementary (Nov. 19)
- Get your Toys for Tots shopping done in time to bring your unwrapped gifts to the Holiday Luncheon on December 11
- Partner with Tapestri on November 30 for the 2026 Georgia Festival of Trees teardown
- Don't forget about book prep: We'll be giving a new book to each student at Kingsley and Dresden Elementary Schools as they head out for the holidays ... labeling will happen at Dresden on December 4 after our meeting; we'll know more about dates for labeling and distributing the Kingsley books soon.

Read on for information on all these opportunities.

Holiday Luncheon - December 11: Dunwoody Country Club

We invite you and a guest to join us for the festivities at the Dunwoody Country Club on Friday, December 11 - a tradition that's carried on every year since the club started in 1984. And in keeping with tradition:

- We'll be entertained by the happy sounds of the Dresden Elementary School choir - just as they have for most of the last 20+ years (picture of their first appearance at the 2003 holiday luncheon)
- With your help, we'll assemble a grand collection of bikes, toys and such for Toys for Tots - in our annual partnership with the Marines
- We'll spend quality time with the Dunwoody Family of Rotary and our friends!

Watch for more details on the luncheon in our next two bulletins.

Thanks for Your Service
